Carl C. Leist, solicitor, told AT councilmen that the lease provides the city about six acres of land for the plant site and the privelege of using approximately 26 acres as sludge beds. Under terms of the lease the city obtains the land on condition that it pays the taxes. Mr. Leist exdedicated for municipal purposes and will be free of taxes it is provided at no cost to the city.

To Treat Plant Wastes The city disposal plant will treat the wastes of the Container Corporation. In addition the company struction costs of the plant.

Mr. Leist explained that this condition depended on the plant cost. Complete plans for the city plant have not been submitted to council by Floyd G. Browne, consulting engineer. They are being prepared. Circleville voters approved a $75,000 bond issue for the plant and the Public Works Administration has made an allotment of $61,363. Since the company's waste treatment has been included in the plans for the municipal plant it was believed the expense may be increased.

Council accepted also a letter of agreement between the city and the Container Corporation providing that details of operation, including the proportionate share of the cost of operation to be borne ed out by future contracts between the city and company.

RUSTLING RINGS

Two Measures Offered Before Legislature To Penalize Organized Gangs

Davey's Special Message Asks For Action

COLUMBUS, Dec. 16 — (UP) - The state of Ohio today took official cognizance of the livestock stealing situation carried on according to Gov. Davey in a special message to the legislature, "by organized gangs of twentieth century cattle rustlers."

Members of the legislature apparently are so anxious to call a halt to the lawlessness that two bills were introduced in the house yesterday in response to the governor's appeal for more stringent

One of the bills came from the Republican side. It was introduced by Minority Floor Leader William M. McCullouch, Miami, and levied a penalty of $500 to $2,000 or five to 25 years in the penitentiary, or both, for stealing a "cow, calf, bull, heifer, steer, hog, sheep or goat."

Penalties Provided

Trespassing on private lands with the object of stealing livestock would subject the offender, if caught, to $50 to $500 fine or 30 days to six months in prison, or both. Tearing down fences or barriers to release livestock would carry an even heavier penalty.

In addition, persons transporting livestock in motor vehicles would be required to carry permits showing the ownership of

An "administration" bill to strengthen the state's rustling laws was offered by Rep. A. Lee Fair, D., Holmes. Then penalty for stealing livestock valued over $35 would be two to 15 years in the penitentiary. For stealing animals valued at less than this amount the punishment would be 90 days in jail or a fine up to $300, or both.

Rep. Fair's bill was declared an emergency "for the immediate preservation of public peace, health and safety."

. . . there is an immediate need to combat the organized crime of livestock stealing now going on in this state," the bill

OHIO'S SOLONS Daniel Roper to Speak TRY TO SHATTER At Jackson Day Event

Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper will be the guest speaker for Ohio's Jackson Day celebration Jan. 8 at the Columbus Neil House, Mrs. Mildred Jaster, Democratic National Committeewoman and managing director of the Ohio program which has been arranged as part of the nation-wide observance, reports.

Secretary Roper, prominent in Democratic national politics for a generation was given the speaking assignment for Ohio following invitation extended by the Ohio committee arranging the dinner. The Democratic National and the Democratic State Committees in Ohio are cooperating in the Jackson Day celebration. Besides Mrs. Jaster, State Chairman Francis W. Poulson and Democrats National Committeeman Charles Sawyer constitute Ohio's honorary committee for arrangements.

HEAVY FINES PROVIDED Robbed by T.V.A.?

SENATOR George L. Berry of Tennessee accuses the Tennessee Valley Authority of "robbing" him of mineral leases in the Norris dam reservoir. Berry's statements were made at a hearing in Knoxville, Tenn., before a three-man commission appointed to determine the value of leases held by Berry and 29 others who seek damages from the federal agency. Counsel for Berry and his associates said that witnesses would testify the marble alone under the waters of Norris lake was worth more than $3,000,000 The TVA took a divergent view. Evans Dunn, counsel for TVA, told the commissioners that "these leases have no market value", and "are not worth the paper they are written on" He added that they had value "only in a condemnation case and they are unique in that respect." Senator Berry defended his purchase of the leases and denied he bought them with a view of seeking damages from the government.

The Jackson Day celebration includes a financial drive concluding with the January 8 dinner at which all contributors are to be guests. The Democratic National Committee is seeking $25 contributions for the affair, 25 percent of all receipts to be returned to each State Committee and the remainder being applied to wipe out the National Committee's deficit and provide operating funds for the 1938 campaign. The $25 contributions are payable in whole or on a partial payment plan.

Governor Martin L. Davey, State Chairman Poulson, National Committeeman Sawyer and U. S. Senators Robert J. Bulkley and A. Vic Donahey have been invited to address the Ohio dinner celebration to Secretary Roper.

Besides the Columbus speaking program, the Ohio celebration will be tuned in to Washington for a radio address by President Roosevelt speaking from a dinner program there and to New York City where National Chairman James A. Farley heads the program.

A. F. OF L. PLAN Street Improvements FOR WAGE HOUR Suggested to Council

> Two street improvements were recommended by city council, Wednesday night, and referred to Service Director J. F. Mavis. Councilman Frank Marion recommended that the intersection of Pickaway and Water streets, opposite the High street school, be improved.

IN a lecture before students at cently, Lieut. Col. Walter Jost,

press chief of the German war ministry, declared, in effect, that every step taken by Nazi authorities since they had come into power was intended to prepare the nation for a war of defense.

Jost condemned pacifism, which he said had been rampant in Germany prior to the advent of Hitler and his aides. He named the University of Berlin re-

He explained that Water street has a high center, is narrow and that Nazi Military Creed there are deep ditches on each side. He said several mishaps have occurred at the intersection. He believes it should be improved before > a serious accident results. Councilmen received a letter from Mrs. W. V. Abernethy complaining of the condition of Montclair avenue. "I have been advised by the tenants in my home on Montclair avenue that conditions must be changed in regard to the road in front of my residence, or they would have to vacate; you of course know that while the road has been scraped no further attention has been paid to it and of course when it rains it is worse than it was . before," her letter stated.

"It is a beautiful addition and I am proud of the part I had in creating it, and many thousands have been added to your tax duplicate on account of the homes built

"Furthermore the road is used more than you may think, and it is not by any means a private addition. I have surely been patient, but I must not lose my tenant."

Councilmen referred the complaint to the service director with instructions that some temporary improvements be made as soon as possible until weather conditions permitted permanent repairs.

"HONOR" OR SAFETY?

CUPPOSE, during our Civil War, when Grant was besieging Vicksburg, there had been British and Japanese trading vessels sailing up the Mississippi and trying to do business as usual. And suppose those two foreign countries also had warships there to protect their commercial interests and the lives of their citizens living thereabouts.

That would have been considered fantastic.

It is not a complete parallel, of course, when the United States and Great Britain do that sort of thing in the Yangtse River while a Japanese army is besieging Shanghai and Nanking. Yet isn't the principle the same? Also the danger?

In fact, the Japanese probably were even sorrier than they admitted. For their tactics during the entire war have been to curry favor with the United States while thumbing their noses at the British.

TIGER CAGERS PREPARE TO INVADE CHILLICOTHE FOR FRIDAY CONTEST

CERTAIN AFTER WIN IN AMANDA

Hughes and Walters May Take Over Guard Spots Against Red Devils

PRELIMINARY IS AT 7

Reserves, All Tiny Boys, To Get Action

Tiger cagers, inexperienced but game, were ready today for their invasion of Chillicothe scheduled Friday evening. The Red Devils, coached by the wily Earl Young, open their season's play against the Red and Black.

The local outfit turned back a late-minute attack by Amanda Tuesday evening to win 38-37 after a long lead at the three-quarter mark. What Jack Landrum's boys will do on the larger Chillicothe court is uncertain. The squad's hopes are high.

The Amanda game gave the Tiger mentor an idea of the vis and Burn Martin would be at senior the forwards, Stringy Smith at center, and Red Hughes and Paul replacing Mader and Garner who started at Amanda. Walters played a large part of the reserve game at Amanda and was not expected to see much service in the varsity game, but did well while he was in there. Hughes looked like one of the most consistent athletes on the team after he broke into the contest at Amanda. Mader and Garner will be ready at any time they are needed.

80 Percent Goes To West. Wallace Declares

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16-(UP) The United States has developed the most advanced weather forecasting system in history, Dr. W. R. Gregg, chief of the weather bureau, disclosed today.

The weather bureau this year has saved many lives and hundreds of millions worth of property through advance warnings of floods, freezes and storms, Dr. Gregg said in a report to Secretary of Agriculture Henry A.

Wallace. Most notable of the advances made in weather forecasting during the past year was made, Dr. Gregg said, in weather-reporting for airway services. The bureau added 120 airway reporting stations, bringing the total to 782

The public, he said, hears much of the few airplanes that crash, but nothing of the hundreds of crashes which probably were averted through advance warning of unfavorable weather conditions. A new airway general supervising and forecast center was established at Arlington, Va., during the year.

Bahama Stations Set Up Hurricane-warning service of the bureau was strengthened by establishment of an improved reporting system in the Bahamas. Twenty stations on the islands now supply daily information of vital importance in forecasting the approach of hurricanes toward the mainland "The year afforded some forceful and dramatic examples of the important, at times tragic, part that unfavorable weather plays in human affairs and of the highly constructive role that an efficiently organized weather service can assume in mitigating the effects of such weather," Dr. Gregg said. The weather bureau was of "inestimatible value," Gregg said, in day-to-day reports of the 1936 drouth and the floods of last Spring. Economic losses from the floods were enormous, he said, but would have been infinitely greater but for the timely warnings of the Advance news of high river crests kept down the death toll and economic losses, he said. They enabled the American Red Cross and government agencies to plan and work more efficiently in relieving suffering and in effecting rescues, he said.

Dr. Gregg said that long-range forecasts still are not practical, but that during the past year the weather bureau has definitely strengthened its service by more frequent reports of surface atmospheric conditions from a closer network of stations; a more complete program of sounding the upper air, and by expanding its

Nov. 24, 1924 Robbery Cited As District's Worst

EL PASO, Dec. 16 (UP)-The attempt of two young "eastern cowboys" to rob the Southern Pacific passenger train Apache on Nov. 25, recalls attempts at train robbery where the law of the West -death to train robbers-pre-

In 1901, Thomas "Black Jack" Ketchum, one of the earliest of pioneer train robbers, was hanged at Clayton, N. M. "Black Jack" single-handed attempted to hold up a Colorado & Southern Pacific train but like the eastern youths, he lost control of the situation and was captured. "Black Jack" was found guilty and sentenced to death by Judge C. J. Mills.

The sheriff of Clayton hanged Ketchum in what was described as one of the most gruesome in the history of the state. Pioneers who witnessed the hanging said the rope used for Ketchum was too long, which permitted his body to drop with such momentum that "Black Jack's head was jurked from his body. No convictions for train robbery have been obtained in New Mexico since the hanging of Ketchum.

Deputy Sheriff Jack Robertson of Mrs. Edward Traub. R. 5. lates that an express messenger and two train robbers were killed in 1910 near Sanderson. On Nov. 10, 1924, the most spectacular train robbery in the Southwest occurred 40 miles south of Juarez, Mexico. The train left the border village enroute to Mexico City. A bandit gang held it up, killed nine persons and ped with a $3,000 payroll and $300 Mexican revenue stamps.
